

Welcome to Offenburg University of Applied Sciences

Technology for industry 4.0

"Predictive Maintenance" research project at Offenburg University of Applied Sciences successfully applies for funding from the Carl Zeiss Foundation to the tune of 750,000 euros.[more]

New Cooperation with Aman Union

The Department of Business and Industrial Engineering is launching a new online training program with the Aman Union. [more]

Hochschule Offenburg Successful at Latest CHE Ranking

According to the latest CHE university ranking, Offenburg is a leading university with respect to its students gaining practical experience during their academic studies. The Hochschule scored particularly well in the ranked...[more]

International Evening 2018

Music, dance, information and colourful costumes from numerous countries: At the "International Evening" of Offenburg University students from all over the world presented their home countries in very diverse and...[more]

Ceremonial Farewell of the Graduates and New Endowed Professorship

527 graduates of the 2018 summer semester were bid farewell on Friday evening in the Oberrheinhalle. A new endowed professorship was also announced at the university ceremony.[more]

Offenburg University is on the right track

Satyanarayana Gopisetty, currently completing his doctorate, comes from India and graduated from Offenburg University with a Master's Degree in Energy Conversion and Management (ECM). In his interview with Prof. Dr. Treffinger...[more]

Record at the Recruiting Fair

Every year the recruiting fair of Offenburg University reaches new records: This year students could inform themselves at 138 stands about jobs, internships, practical semesters and theses.[more]